

‘Execution Excellence’ for Top Gun Business Teams

Fighter Force uses accomplished military fighter pilots as presenters and keynote speakers for military themed corporate team building events and development solutions.

Elite Fighter Pilots have mastered unique sets of techniques and tools that we refer to as “Execution Excellence”. These tools can enable individuals and teams to perform better and achieve their business missions with the perfection and precision of an elite military flyer. Your team will learn about and then quickly experience some of the combat proven tools and techniques used by genuine military fighter pilots for “execution excellence” in their own daily missions.

The pressures and challenges of a combat fighter jet squadron in a rapidly changing environment, and a modern corporate office in the 21st century share a far greater similarity than most would think. The big difference is how much better the elite fighter pilot is trained to deal effectively with the challenges and task overload that this environment presents.

Real military Combat Fighter Pilots are the presenters for a powerful blend of tailored presentations and hands on challenges. Onstage in their distinctive flight suits, they use spectacular footage and graphics along with unique hands-on challenges to motivate, promote team learning and help individuals and groups achieve “execution excellence”.

This high impact combination is designed to deliver some powerful messages in a unique and memorable way. A myriad of high performance fighter pilot techniques are meticulously related to your business and tailored for maximum impact and results.

Senior Fighter Force Facilitator

Mike “JB” Prior

Sabre Facilitator, Commercial Lawyer
